ᵈᵢ₁ DATA FOR PROGRESS

From April 11 to 12, 2024, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1,207 U.S. likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, geography, and voting history. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error is ±3 percentage points.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

N=1,207 unless otherwise specified.

[3] Currently, marijuana is classified as a Schedule I drug. Schedule I drugs include heroin and LSD, and are classified as having "no currently accepted medical use and a high potential for abuse."

Recently, the Department of Health and Human Services proposed rescheduling marijuana from a Schedule I to Schedule III drug. Schedule III drugs include ketamine and testosterone, and are classified as having "moderate to low potential for physical and psychological dependence."

Do you think marijuana should be classified as a Schedule I or Schedule III drug?
