

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

Over the past four years during a relative time of peace, America has increased its defense spending by 20 percent. Would you support or oppose Congress cutting 10 percent of the $738 billion federal defense budget--with the guarantee that none of these cuts would affect American military personnel's pay or healthcare -- to pay for other needs like fighting the coronavirus, education, healthcare, and housing?

In 2020, the defense budget was 90 times bigger than the budget for the Centers for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC). Would you support a 10 percent cut in the $738 billion defense budget that would go to the CDC and other domestic needs?
