

From August 13 to 16, 2021, Invest in America and Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1,193 likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, and voting history. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error is ±3 percentage points.

N=1,193 unless otherwise specified. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

[3] Lawmakers in Congress are considering a new investment that aims to make healthcare more affordable, improve long-term care for seniors, expand educational opportunities, and strengthen America's social safety net. When thinking about this proposal, which statement comes closest to your view, even if neither is exactly right?	This investment plan should be large enough to meet the moment, making sure that America can get back on its feet after the pandemic.	54%	75%	49%	33%
	After trillions have already been spent on pandemic relief, this investment should be small and targeted. Now isn't the time to spend more.	38	19	42	59

[6] Some lawmakers in Congress are proposing a $3.5 trillion investment plan that does the following:

- Invests in high quality, low-cost long-term care for seniors and people with disabilities
- Expands Medicare benefits to cover hearing, vision, and dental care, as well as lowers the eligibility age to 60
- Allows Medicare to negotiate the cost of prescription drugs
- Creates universal pre-kindergarten for all 3- and 4-year-olds
- Modernizes our electricity grid and increases the use of clean energy
- Extends the expanded Child Tax Credit which provides support to parents to help with the cost of raising a family
