[1] Lawmakers in Congress are debating a new investment plan that will provide funding for long-term care for seniors and people with disabilities, expanding access to healthcare, increasing educational opportunities, and investing in clean energy.	As long as this proposal is paid for and does not raise taxes on Americans making less than $400,000, this package should be as large as it needs to be to keep America competitive globally and to make sure that it lowers things like healthcare and utility costs for working and middle class Americans.	54%	64%	56%	41%
When thinking about the size of this investment plan, which statement comes closer to your view, even if neither is exactly right?	This investment plan should be small and targeted. Now isn't the time to raise taxes on corporations and spend huge sums of money. We've already spent trillions fighting the coronavirus and more government overspending could lead to inflation.	34	24	32	46
