From September 1 to 2, 2021, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1,187 likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, and voting history. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error is ±3 percentage points.

N=1,187 unless otherwise specified. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

[1] How much do agree or disagree with the following statement:

Big Tech companies such as Amazon, Facebook, and Google are too big and have too much power. This puts competitors at a disadvantage and hurts both smaller businesses and consumers.

Big Tech companies such as Amazon, Facebook, and Google spend tens of millions of dollars on political donations and lobbying. They avoid government regulation because they have too much political influence in Washington D.C.

[4] Big Tech companies such as Amazon are known to buy up smaller companies to become even bigger. Economists say that these types of "mergers" often allow the large business to prevent competition from smaller businesses and allow the larger companies to unfairly increase consumer prices for goods and services. Do you agree or disagree that the government needs to take a closer look at mergers by major tech companies?

[6] This year, Amazon announced its plans to buy MGM Studios, an iconic Hollywood studio. Many critics say this would put smaller studios at an even bigger disadvantage and could lead to less innovation in the film industry.
