

DATA FOR PROGRESS

From July 25 to 26, 2022, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 975 likely voters in Wyoming using SMS and web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, geography, and voting history. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error is ± 3 percentage points.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

N=975 unless otherwise specified.

[8] When thinking about energy production in Wyoming, which of the following statements comes closer to your view, even if neither is exactly right:

Response	Topline	Democrat	Independent / Third party	Republican	Female	Male	Under 45	45+	No College	College	White
While we may be producing more energy from alternative sources like wind energy, Wyoming will still be producing oil, natural gas and coal for decades to come.	76	23	65	90	73	78	65	79	79	67	76
The transition away from oil, natural gas, and coal is happening now. Wyoming needs to increase alternative energy production so we can be a leader in this new energy economy.	21	75	33	6	22	19	30	18	16	30	21

[11] Carbon dioxide is a pollutant that contributes to climate change and is created during oil, gas, and coal production.

New technologies and practices are able to capture and store or completely remove carbon dioxide emissions from the atmosphere.

Would you support or oppose Wyoming allowing these carbon dioxide removal sites to be built in the state?
