

DATA FOR PROGRESS

From May 18 to 23, 2022, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1,154 likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, and voting history. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error is ± 3 percentage points.

N=1,154 unless otherwise specified. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

[4] The Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) is a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution. The ERA would guarantee equal legal rights for all citizens regardless of their sex. In 1972, the ERA passed both chambers of Congress with two-thirds majority bipartisan support, but failed to be ratified by enough states in time to pass into law. Congress would have to act in order for the ERA to be eligible to become law. Knowing this, would you support or oppose Congress passing legislation to enact the Equal Rights Amendment? [5] The Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) is a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution. The ERA would guarantee equal legal rights for all citizens regardless of their sex.

In 1972, the ERA passed both chambers of Congress with two-thirds majority bipartisan support, but failed to be ratified by enough states in time to pass into law. Congress would have to act in order for the ERA to be eligible to become law.

There is currently no formal protection under the Constitution for women to have equal rights to men – something which other countries like Canada, France, Ireland, Spain, and Sweden have.

Knowing this, would you support or oppose Congress passing legislation to enact the Equal Rights Amendment? (N=591)
