

DATA FOR PROGRESS

From August 4 to 6, 2022, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1,344 likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, and voting history. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error is ± 3 percentage points.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

N=1,344 unless otherwise specified.

[12] President Biden could take various executive actions to regulate rent, such as extending the national eviction moratorium or signing an executive order to end the practice of landlords from overcharging tenants. When thinking about this, which of the following statements comes closer to your view, even if neither is exactly right?

Response	Topline	Democrat	Independent / Third party	Republican	Female	Male	Under 45	45+	No College	College	Black or African American	White	Latino/a	Renters	Home Owners
President Biden should use his executive power. This is a national crisis and will provide immediate relief for people facing skyrocketing rents.	51	76	46	30	53	49	61	46	51	51	70	47	62	66	44
President Biden should not use his executive power. This should not be in the president's legal authority and should be left to Congress instead.	39	18	39	60	36	42	27	45	37	42	21	43	27	27	47
