

DATA FOR PROGRESS

From March 17 to April 8, 2023, Data for Progress conducted two surveys of a total of 2,468 likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, geography, and voting history. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error is ± 2 percentage points.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

N=2,468 unless otherwise specified.

[6] Currently, in order to sentence a defendant to death, all twelve members of the jury must vote for the death penalty. Some lawmakers have proposed legislation that would loosen this requirement and allow death sentences if at least eight jurors agree. The legislation would also allow judges to override juries that oppose a death sentence, and unilaterally impose a death sentence on the defendant.

Do you support or oppose this legislation?
