

DATA FOR PROGRESS

From April 11 to 12, 2024, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1,207 U.S. likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, geography, and voting history. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error is ± 3 percentage points.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

N=1,207 unless otherwise specified.

[3] This week, the Arizona Supreme Court upheld an 1864 law that bans nearly all abortions.

This means that all abortions will be banned in Arizona, with exceptions only for when the life of the mother is in danger. This law makes no exceptions for pregnancy resulting from rape or incest.

Do you approve or disapprove of the court's decision to ban nearly all abortions in Arizona?

[7] Below is a list of statements from those who oppose the Arizona Supreme Court's decision to uphold an 1864 law that bans nearly all abortions.

For each statement, please indicate how convincing you find it:

— Parents should have the right to decide when they are ready to have a child, not the state, and not politicians. The state should have no role in determining whether people have access to reproductive health care.

— When this abortion law was enacted in 1864, rape was legal, women couldn't vote, and the age of consent was 10 years old. Women should not be subjected to such an archaic, outdated law.

For each statement, please indicate how convincing you find it:

— This law is very extreme. It would ban abortions even for people who are pregnant because they were raped or are victims of incest. It would also criminally charge health care providers simply for providing reproductive health care.
