

From September 13 to 16, 2024, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1,223 U.S. likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, geography, and 2020 recalled vote. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error associated with the sample size is ±3 percentage points. Results for subgroups of the sample are subject to increased margins of error. Partisanship reflected in tabulations is based on self-identified party affiliation, not partisan registration. For more information please visit dataforprogress.org/our-methodology.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

N=1,223 unless otherwise specified.

| The government should have a role in the housing market. Housing is a basic necessity and the private market is unable to address many Americans' affordability concerns. | 64      | 82       | 58                        | 47         | 66     | 62   | 68       | 62  | 62         | 67      | 75                        | 60    | 71     | 60             | 71     | 63                      | 69    | 63       | 60    |
| The government should not have a role in the housing market. The market should not be tampered with for handouts, it is better left to private owners and developers.     | 29      | 13       | 31                        | 47         | 26     | 33   | 25       | 32  | 30         | 29      | 19                        | 33    | 23     | 33             | 25     | 23                      | 26    | 28       | 35    |
