

From May 30 to June 1, 2025, Data for Progress conducted a survey of 1,232 U.S. likely voters nationally using web panel respondents. The sample was weighted to be representative of likely voters by age, gender, education, race, geography, and recalled presidential vote. The survey was conducted in English. The margin of error associated with the sample size is ± 3 percentage points. Results for subgroups of the sample are subject to increased margins of error. Partisanship reflected in tabulations is based on self-identified party affiliation, not partisan registration. For more information please visit dataforprogress.org/our-methodology.

NB: subgroups with a n-size less than 50 (<50) are not shown on these cross-tabs. We choose not to display N<50 subgroups because the sample is too small to have statistical significance. We did, however, take samples of these subgroups for representational and weighting purposes to accurately reflect the electorate makeup. Some values may not add up to 100 due to rounding.

N=623 unless otherwise specified.

[1] Below are some actions that Democratic leaders could take to resist the Trump administration and its policies. Please indicate how you would feel about Democratic leaders doing each of the following.

— Introducing Articles of Impeachment against President Trump.

(Shown to respondents who disapprove of Trump)

Response	Topline	Democrat	Independent / Third party	Female	Male	Under 45	45+	No College	College	Black or African American	White	Latino
I would support this action and think it would likely make a difference in building opposition to the Trump administration.	51	54	44	51	51	51	51	53	47	45	50	56
I would support this action but think it would not likely make a difference in building opposition to the Trump administration.	35	36	36	35	34	34	35	31	40	38	35	32
I would not support this action.	14	10	20	14	15	15	14	16	12	17	15	12
